they are one person
they are two alone
they are three together they are four each other are you thinkin' of telephones and managers and where you got to be at noon?

you are living a reality

i am yours, you are mine, you are what you are.

if you smile at me i will understand

'cause that is something everyone does in the same language.

something inside is telling me that i've got your secret are you listening?
fear is the lock, and laughter the key to your heart and i love you.

and you know that's not where it's at babe you're just seein' things through a cat's eyes.

chestnut brown canary, ruby-throated sparrow sing a song, don't be long thrill me to the marrow.

how do you catch the sparrow?

seagulls circle endlessly
i sing in silent harmony we shall be free.

Student Life

A hand-drawn map of a river system, possibly a meandering stream or a network of small waterways. The drawing is done in black ink on a light-colored, slightly textured paper. The river starts on the left, flows towards the right, and then turns downwards and to the right. There are several loops and bends in the river. One of the loops, located in the upper left part of the drawing, contains the text "Student Life" written in a simple, handwritten font. The river continues to flow towards the bottom right corner of the page, where it ends. The overall style is that of a quick sketch or a doodle.

blood and guts issue unites butler students the student awareness committee played the major role in organizing and carrying out butler's version of the national moratorium day march. the day was october 15, 1969, a day to be remembered in the history of butler's student body. students united, greek and independent barriers were dropped. heads and straights marched arm in arm in individual protest or in expression for those who died in the viet nam war.

the week of moratorium activities began with an open lecture by dr. thomas willey. literature on various positions concerning the war was passed out all week. wednesday afternoon found students at c.t.s. listening to three guest speakers who provided more insight into the draft and the war.

the chimes rang, sounding the official start of the annual homecoming festivities, and the frolic did indeed begin. the chariot race set the mood for the afternoon and the men of phi delta theta out-charioted the men of sigma chi for the second consecutive year. pi phis and ross hall pushed together to constitute the winning pushmobile team. from these two lung-bursting events the crowd was allowed a breather, and moved to the steps of the holcomb observatory for the crowning of the 1969 hinkle homecoming queen. lynn haglund, pi beta phi and veteran miss indiana, was chosen queen; and mary young, kappa alpha theta, was the first runner-up.

christmas brings joy, love, smiles to kids who need them christmas is the season for joy, the season for love; but most of all, christmas is the season of giving. some say charity begins in the home; now, most people agree that it is indeed better to give than to receive.

butler students have joined the now generation in this respect. the ym-ywca gave a tree-trim party for under-privileged children, various fraternities and sororities gave orphan parties. one sorority surrendered their annual house party in order to bring food and joy in to the homes of welfare families.

one of butler's renowned and unique departments is their ballet department. the butler ballet company is composed of many outstanding and dedicated professionalists. they practice long and tedious hours in order to maintain perfect form and physical endurance. after these long hours of individual practice the dancers rehearse the upcoming ballet together for many more hours of hard, but enjoyable work. dancers do receive their reward however, when they know by the audiences reaction that they have given an electrifying performance.

tony hinkle is the myth, the man and the coach who served butler university as well as the state of indiana for almost half of a century. in his long career of coaching three varsity teams the bulldogs indulged in the luxuries of victory and the agonies of undeniable defeat.

mr. hinkle, monument among coaches, unlike others, stresses the fundamentals of the game. in the past few years of his coaching career he has placed heavy emphasis on these fundamentals rather than on recruiting. he has been criticized for not "firing up" his team for a game and his psychology has been rated poor, but any one of his players will tell you that if they had played his "country ball" as he coached it, they would be all-american players. he has a host of idiosyncracies: rarely does he call anyone by first names, every one is called kid, from so & so, and italians on the team are called spaghetti.

clowes hall has graced our campus with top cultural and secular entertainment for many years, and this season has been no exception.

the all-time favorite harkness ballet was here, along with their famed elizabeth carroll and helgi tomasson. the a.p.a. repertory company and the canadian opera company which presented "the barber of seville" were at clowes for weekend runs. this year's broadway hits included "fiddler on the roof", "the price", "cabaret", "the wind", "your own thing" and "canterbury tales".

all of the events took place on the mall, the main event, the car race, was conducted around the mall. queen candidates were dressed in playboy bunny costumes; tri delt, karen straton, won the title of phi-100 queen. the golf-putting and diaper contests were all-time unique events. the winning driving and pit crew team was the women of delta delta delta and the omega phi psis.

this year for the first time, the student assembly held a spring weekend for independents and greeks. friday afternoon, the weekend was opened with several competitions between the housing units. among these was a miss personality contest, and a pie-eating contest.

saturday afternoon a carnival was imported to ross hall's football field. it featured such delights as cotton candy, a merry-go-round, a ferris wheel, and all the whirly-upside-down type rides that make you lose the cotton candy. there also was a raft race on the pond in front of the carillon. the winning combination was candy cox, pi phi, and leon putz.

bulldogs win three in their hectic season it was the last of a great era. it was the last football season for butler's outstanding three-sport coach, paul d. hinkle, more commonly known as "tony." hinkle's accomplishments were far more impressive than most people would believe.

senior men provided the bulk of talent and experience for the butler 1969 varsity football squad. conclusion of the season ended college football for graduating lettermen. talented seniors used their acquired skills as an aid in financing their college education through athletic scholarships.

self-discipline and sportsmanship learned on the practice field and in the games prepared gridmen to cope with life away from college. even though the loss of such a large segment of the team left a gap in both players and experience for the next years' team, the promising freshmen, sophomores and juniors will easily fill the gap and assure bulldog fans of an even better season.

the upswing

butler golfers under the guidance of coach jim hauss, swung their way to the icc championship with a match record of 13 wins and 2 losses for the 1969 season. prospective strength promised in the returning golfers assures butler of more success on the links in the future seasons led by sophomore letterman, mike rearden, the 1969 tennis team finished with a record of eight wins and four losses. pop hedden's racketmen tied for second place in the inter-collegiate conference.

hustling harriers jump gun to lead title race now how did mother say that went—two bunny ears and then tie?

encouraged and directed by coach stan lyons, the 1969 butler harriers pulled through with a near perfect winning season. the team won three and lost two of their dual meets. in the earlham invitational meet, the butler bulldogs streaked through, placing third out of fifteen teams. the harriers ended the season successfully in the inter-collegiate conference meet.

outstanding runners this year were henry van maaren, jim gunn, bob teckenbrock, and micky dietz.

bulldogs bounce back from four early losses the last season in tony hinkle's illustrious career at butler university began on a disastrous note as the bulldogs lost the first four of the season. the bulldogs first foursome of illinois, ohio state, purdue, and western kentucky, at one time or another, before the hinkle cagemen, were ranked in the top twenty major college teams ranked in the nation. but this did not stop the bulldogs as they went on to record numerous upset victories without dropping two games in a row in the last column.

the fighting illini of illinois had little, but surprising, trouble with the bulldogs as they were the first to win in butler's four losses, 83-67. sophomore, billy shepherd, in his college debut led the way for butler with 26 points.

the last of the bulldog's four straight defeats came at the hands of the western kentucky hilltops, as all-american jim mcdaniels and company beat the bulldogs 96-61.

alpha chis land fall festival first in originality well, there's nothing seedy about those alpha chis', right ginny?

what do you mean that we are using bicycles this year?

though they might be tempted just to sit down on their spacious front deck and watch the butler world pass by, the women of the golden lyre of alpha chi omega assume their share of service and campus activities.

high on their list of service projects are making toys for the youngsters at the crossroads rehabilitation center and for the settlement house. in cooperation with the men of tau kappa epsilon they also gave a merry christmas party for a group of eager orphans.

they were given first honors for originality in the fall festival booths, were second in the 1969 spring sing, second in homecoming house decs, and second from the top in pushmobile competition. candy poore and vickie truax were cheerleaders, dee watson was voted tke favorite, and chris carlson served as president of a.w.s. sarah jo thompson ably leads the alpha chis.

among their new achievements were serving as aides to the indiana school for the blind. one of their pleasant tasks was to serve as hostesses for a christmas party there. they also were instrumental in establishing a new dg chapter at ball state university.

honors were brought to the house when karen dumm was made sigma nu sweetheart; georgia pearson was listed as second runner-up in the homecoming court; and jean ann mc-cain was elected president of both panhellenic and the y.w.c.a.

under president laurette blackinton members of the house won top honors in the trik-la-tron and third in homecoming house decs.

the kappas confidently continued their formula of two parts work and two parts fun as they made this year memorable in activities, service and scholarship. under the guidance of president mary lou burgett, the mu chapter did a repeat in the top award category in geneva stunts and scholarship.

its members are active in young republicans, y.w.c.a., w.r.a., a.w.s., and s.e.a they are also represented in coveted honoraries: spurs, chimes, mortar board and phi kappa phi. donna berkshire resident of the "kappa convent" is spurs president. hub award winners are janet dickerson and marilyn noll.

in addition to their whirlwind participation in extra-curriculars and academics, kappas have taken an active role in various service projects. recently they began sponsoring an argentine orphan. prompted by the experiences of several members who do part-time teaching in the indianapolis inner city schools, kappa women have taken a hand in providing recreation for displaced appalachian children and tutoring students at some elementary schools. their work and fun are scrambled.

trianon celebrates special fortieth anniversary

forty years on butler's campus with the same house mother should be some kind of record. trianon sorority, butler's only non-greek social sorority, celebrates a special anniversary this year with mrs. margaret means. she is an honorary member who helped establish the national organization in 1929. that same year trianon came to butler.

trianon members participate in many campus activities. their first year teamed with a.i.s in womens i.m. kickball resulted in second place honors. they also boast the outstanding sophomore woman in journalism, bonnie britton, the outstanding chemistry student, ardrith hieber, and the president of the french club, le cercle francaise, elizabeth brayton. five members are active on student assembly.

a newly-redecorated room in ather-ton center serves as home away from home for the fourteen actives and four pledges. president this year is barbara worrell.

"hours" theme wins second for robertson once, robertson hall was a chapel. now it's a swinging housing unit for upperclass women.

those it houses are not just run-of-the mill gals either. many of them are drama and dance majors, but they touch base in other fields of specialization, too!

in the extracurricular area, robertson's raiders took to the gridiron to face ross hall and several fraternity teams. others work at park avenue neighborhood center and tutor children in several disadvantaged areas. sunday dinners in the french cafe are a regular feature.

lambda chis boast pledge class of twenty-eight tom willis, president of lambda chi alpha fraternity, leads an active group of college men, including a pledge class of twenty-eight, in many campus projects.

the lambda chis sponsor several annual projects that have become campus traditions. in the fall, the watermelon bust was, as usual, a huge success. the orphan party, crescent girl dance, and the christmas dance were the highlights of the winter social season.

various awards presented to the house in the just-completed year were geneva stunts finalists, homecoming house decs third place and im's all-sports, second place.

their members are in utes, sphinx, blue key, the y, ifc, and many other organizations.

phi psis join frats; take tennis, debate honors the "old meetin' place" is temporarily in room 312 at atherton. here chris anderson, kent bird and tom sheriff help mark batman with a sign for the bulldogs.

the men of the zeta chapter of phi kappa psi have come a long way since the eleven charter members were initiated on the butler campus on may 13, 1969.

led by president chris anderson every single member has been involved in the st. thomas aquinas tutoring program, working with children in the first to seventh grades in indianapolis schools.

in extracurriculars, phi psis were represented in the lambda chi's watermelon toss and the homecoming pushmobile race. they also won first place in intramural tennis competition.

their members are represented in blue key, phi eta sigma, marching band, debate team and other prestigious organizations.

it's been a good year for phi kappa psi at butler and presages an even brighter future.

february of this year, the kappa theta chapter of omega psi phi was originated. an infant fraternity on butler's campus, omega psi phi is far from young on campuses across the country. founded at howard university, washington, d.c., the chapters number three hundred eleven today, including chapters on ivy league campuses and on every big ten campus.

march 15, 1969, eight butler men were initiated into the indianapolis zeta phi chapter. and became the charter members of butler's kappa theta chapter.

led by president gerald woolfolk, the frat men got off to a strong start by capturing first place in the phi 100 last spring. brothers are on the varsity football and baseball teams. varsity cinderman, gerald woolfolk, holds many of butler's track records.

the omega psis actively participate in intramurals, and they sponsor a thanksgiving food drive for needy families in the city. members are also active in phi eta sigma, phi kappa phi, phi delta chi and alpha phi omega.

under the leadership of president john "flower" mayhill, the men of phi delta theta started the year by running off with homecoming laurels when they trounced the sigma chis in the chariot race and by placing first in house decs for the third consecutive year.

they were first in the male segment of geneva stunts and second in the diverse areas of spring sing and intramurals. dave bennett and steve norris are standouts on the bulldogs hoop team and steve johnson and jack boyd took part in the successful innovation of the phi 100. craig feneman is president of the student assembly.

members of "the big house" were winners of this year's goodwill cheer drive and received a statewide "alum" trophy for their community service work with students at the indiana school for the blind.

you say there's a tiger in my tank?

phi kappa thetas keep abreast of campus activities in a variety of ways. they staked their claim for scholastic fame by achieving the highest accumulative rating in men's housing units at butler. in the b.m.o.c. department, their entry in the drift most eligible bachelor contest, louie webber, became a finalist.

in the service area, the phi kaps, did volunteer work for the indianapolis humane society.

in the "no category" area, one of the brothers, mike rudzinski, placed second in the freak contest, a rather dubious honor in itself.

sigma chis capture first place in fall festival led by president jack saylors, the men of sigma chi achieved in both service and activities on campus. the house continued to work for campus improvement by presenting the annual scholarship and activities trophies to the outstanding fraternity and sorority.

the sigs also held the traditional sweetheart dance in honor of their sweetheart, diane fountain, and their favorite, candy cox.

with the thetas, they co-sponsored the annual christmas party for underprivileged children.

after some confusion, derby day was moved from the usual autumn slot to a spring date. it was, as usual, a huge success.

besides being active in sports, sigs claim to be active in the young republicans and members of various honoraries. paired with the kappas, they were the winners of the 1969 ym-ywca fall festival.

sigma nus cash in on an active, winning year the pool table at the sigma nu house is a great place to relax, right, butch?

mom said there would be days like this!

the epsilon mu chapter of sigma nu fraternity cashed in on an active and award-winning year.

the men of sigma nu sponsored an annual christmas party for orphans, and also participated in the mother's march of dimes campaign. other house activities were the annual dances: the bar room brawl and the traditional voo-doo dance in the spring.

the sigma nus scored high in scholastics both locally and nationally. the brothers earned a fifth place in national scholarship. during the second semester they were first in campus scholarship and finished with a second place in scholarship on campus for the whole year.

in the 1969 homecoming festivities, the sigma nus received a second place in house decorations.

one of the outstanding members of the sigma nus is billy shepherd, indiana's mr. basketball. gary miller, vice-president of i.f.c. and john twenty, sphinx president are also active members of the fraternity.

kevin celarek proudly accepts the trophy for the men of sigma nu from roger ward.

the college of pharmacy, an asset to butler university, is actively preparing students for this profession. dean kaufman and his staff of eight full time professors have opened a new dispensary which will serve a two-fold purpose. it allows the pharmacy students to gain experience by working in the dispensary, and it allows butler students and faculty to get their prescriptions filled more conveniently.

university students are deflated by inflation kathy magiera is really smart when it comes to choosing clothes, because she buys her clothes at the SMART SHOP, meadows, esquire plaza, greenfield.

cindy edwards solves all her problems with a collection of pins from SPICER-GIERKE. for your fraternity and sorority rings, pins and gifts, see SPICER-GIERKE COMPANY, 6349 guilford ave. (north of the canal in broad ripple) 253-1291.

butler seniors become tomorrow's consumers

lower left: fortune-ate couple, candy cox and leon putz, enjoy the exotic food of LOTUS GARDEN, 4424 allisonville rd., 546-7551; u.s. 31 at 431, greenwood, 881-5531.

steve norris and billy shepherd lean on STOKELY'S GATORADE, the big thirst quencher for active people.

diane fountain, drift beauty queen agrees that for the best senior pictures go directly to ROOT PHOTOGRAPHERS, do not pass go, do not collect $100.

when she leaves you cold, "LOVE" will keep you warm. with gail sperry leaving him, floyd garrett needs LOVE HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING, 4115 e. 10th st., 353-2141.

"if tuition goes up one more time, i'll break your arm!"

this is the dawning of a new era. the proliferation of long hair, beads, fringed suede jackets, and maxi-coats marked the collegiate scene. but most important was the intellectual renaissance; new young blood thrived on universal peace and love. students infiltrated the ghettos, met with university deans, and coordinated national moratoriums in order to obtain an understanding between man and all men. butler, though only molecular in the relative scheme of the universe, was also caught up in the new stream of thought . . . the age of aquarius.
